filed. IA [] then provided a copy of a docket from Rhode Island under docket number: 88-CV-0589 (which was the original docket number of this case when it was in Rhode Island before it was transferred to New Hampshire) and the Rhode Island docket does not reflect entry of judgement for the defendants, nor does it reflect that any appeal was filed. A review of the New Hampshire docket under docket number: 90-CV-2000D, reflects the last entry of March 14, 1994, which shows the case to be closed and that the case was sent to the United States District Court for the District of Rhode Island to enter the judgement. A copy of the New Hampshire docket as of March 16, 1994, has already been provided to FBIHQ. Thus it appears that the United States District Court for the District of Rhode Island has not entered the final judgement and has not received any notice of appeal from the plaintiff.

By use of a blind-draw system, this case was assigned to Chief Judge Devine. Judge Devine was a member of the law firm of Devine, Millimet, Stahl & Branch for approximately 26 years until his appointment to the Federal bench in July of 1978. O R D E R

This Order addresses the issues raised by certain of the pending pleadings.

1. The Report and Recommendation of the Magistrate (doc. no. 44)

In relevant part, the Report and Recommendation (R & R) suggests (1) dismissal of this action as to those of the named defendants who have not been served with process; (2) the entry of default against the defendant "Catholic Churches of the Diocese of Providence, Rhode Island"; (3) the stay of all further proceedings pending resolution of motions to dismiss.

By medium of timely-filed objection (document no. 46), accompanied by documents hereinafter discussed, Bishop Louis Gelineau objects to the entry of default as against the defendant "Catholic Churches, et al". On de novo review, the Court agrees

Gelineau on October 19, 1988, it was not accompanied by a copy of either the summons or the complaint in this action. The first actual notice as to the existence and scope of these documents came by medium of telephone conversation received by Attorney Murphy, counsel for Bishop Gelineau, on March 14, 1990.³

Rule 6(b)(2) is to be read in conjunction with Rule 1, Fed. R. Civ. P.,⁴ and grants to a court wide discretion to fashion relief. Johnson Chem. Co. v. Condado Center, Inc., 453 F.2d 1044, 1047 (1st Cir. 1972). "Excusable neglect" depends in part upon the importance of the matter involved and the prejudice, if any, to the other party." Coady v. Aguadilla Terminal, Inc., 456 F.2d 677, 678 (1st Cir. 1972). The discretion afforded to the court is not to be exercised in a manner that prejudices the other party's substantial rights. CIA Petrolera Caribe, Inc. v. Arco Caribbean, Inc., 754 F.2d 404, 409 (1st Cir. 1985).

Here, as examination of the file demonstrates that delay in the progress of this litigation is largely attributable to plaintiff, and on consideration that decision on the merits is the strong policy of the First Circuit, United States v. Pole, No. 3172, Hopkinton, 852 F.2d 636, 642 (1st Cir. 1988); Richman v.

³It appears that counsel for a codefendant upon receiving a copy of the R & R telephoned Murphy to alert him to the fact that the R & R suggested default against defendants who might include his client Bishop Gelineau.

⁴Rule 1, Fed. R. Civ. P., mandates that the federal rules "be construed to secure to the just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of every action."

General Motors Corp., 437 F.2d 196, 199 (1st Cir. 1971), it is clear that allowance of the motion will not prejudice plaintiff's substantial rights. Accordingly, the motion of Bishop Gelineau seeking extension of time to answer or otherwise plead to April 16, 1990, is herewith granted.

3. Conclusion

For the reasons hereinabove detailed, the Court, with respect to the Magistrate's Report and Recommendation (document no. 44) affirms the recommendations that dismissal of the complaint be had as to all defendants who have not as yet been served, and that stay of all further proceedings be had until resolution of the motions to dismiss. The objection of Bishop Gelineau to the recommendation of entry of default as against those defendants he represents has been sustained, and that recommendation of entry of default is herewith rejected.

The motion of Bishop Gelineau to enlarge the time to answer or otherwise plead (document no. 45) has also been granted.

REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION

Referred here from the United States District Court for the District of Rhode Island, the voluminous complaint comprises 10 counts and 174 pages. It names 197 defendants as having violated various civil rights of the plaintiff pursuant to 42 U.S.C. §§ 1981, 1983, 1985, and 1986. The named defendants include the President of the United States, former spouses of the plaintiff, and varied judicial, executive and legislative officers, state and federal. The complaint's myriad grounds range from disputed custody of infant children to employment discharge.

The chronology of the instant litigation is as follows. The complaint was docketed in this Court on October 11, 1988. That same date the undersigned issued an Order granting plaintiff's motion to proceed in forma pauperis, but only for the purpose of waiving the filing fee. Plaintiff was ordered to complete service on all named defendants by mailing a copy of the complaint by certified mail, return receipt requested, to each defendant.* Plaintiff proceeded to make service on fifteen of the defendants, while appealing the undersigned's order requiring plaintiff to pay for the cost of service. The undersigned's order was upheld by Chief Judge Devine. The case was then stayed while plaintiff appealed to the First Circuit Court of Appeals.

*Plaintiff was forewarned that failure to comply with service as outlined in the Order could result in dismissal of the action against those defendants who were not served.

O R D E R

This matter comes before the Court on the motion of pro se plaintiff John J. Staradumsky seeking to notice an appeal to the United States Court of Appeals for the First Circuit. The Notice of Appeal seeks to challenge that portion of the Order of the United States Magistrate (document no. 7, at 1, Oct. 11, 1988) which denied plaintiff's motion to proceed in forma pauperis, including the cost of service and printing of the complaint.¹

MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF FEDERAL AND INDIVIDUAL DEFENDANTS' MOTION TO DISMISS

The plaintiff has brought a complaint consisting of 171 pages and names 197 defendants. The defendants include, inter alia, the President, the Judiciary, Legislators, Churches, etc. The Complaint is extremely difficult to distill into any sort of short and meaningful summary. It appears, however, that the thrust of the plaintiff's complaint is that the Family Court of the State of Rhode Island has awarded custody of his two children to Gloria Hartman who is the mother of the children. It appears he complains that such action by the Court was illegal and that for some unexplained, unintelligible reason, the federal defendants have in some way injured him. It is not at all discernible what relief he is requesting relative to said defendants. It is submitted that the complaint is so patently vague that the defendants cannot reasonably be required to fashion a responsive pleading.

THE COMPLAINT SHOULD BE DISMISSED .
FOR FAILURE TO COMPLY WITH RULE 8 OF THE FEDERAL RULES OF PROCEDURE

The plaintiff's complaint should be dismissed because it fails to set forth a claim for relief in compliance with Federal Rules of Civil Procedure 8(a). Courts have recognized that Rule 8(a) sets out a minimum standard for the sufficiency of complaints, and requires that they at least contain a short and plain statement of the claim that the pleader is entitled to relief. Hatch v. Reliance Insurance Co., 758 F2d 409, 415 (9th Circ-1985); Michaelis v. Nebraska State Bar Ass'n., 717 F2d 437, 438 (8th Circ-1983); Harris v. U.S. Dept. of Justice, 680 F2d 1109 (5th Circ-1982); Washington v. Baenziger, 656 F. Supp. 176 (N.D. Cal-1987); "Santa Barbara Like It Is Today", 94 F.R.D. 105, 108 (D. Nev. 1982); U.S. ex rel Dattola v. National Treasury Employment Union, 86 F.R.D. 496, 499 (W.D.PA-1980); Brown v. Califano, 75 F.R.D. 497, 498 (D.D.C.-1977).

Although plaintiff here is pro se and thus his submissions are to be held to a less stringent standard than those drawn by legal counsel, Brown, 75 F.R.D. at 499, it nonetheless is the case that "even a pro se complaint is subject to dismissal if the pleading fails reasonably to inform the adverse party of the asserted cause of action." Id. Indeed, the court in Brown dismissed with prejudice a complaint by a pro se litigant which was a "confused and rambling narrative of charges and conclusions concerning numerous persons, ... (and) which contained an untidy assortment of claims that were neither plainly nor concisely stated, nor meaningfully distinguished from bald conclusions, sharp harangues and personal comments." Id. at 499. This language from Brown describes plaintiff's Complaint in this case.

The purpose of Rule 8 is to "give fair notice of the claim(s) being asserted so as to permit the adverse party the opportunity to file a responsive answer, prepare an adequate defense and determine whether the doctrine of res judicata is applicable." Brown v. Califano, 75 F.R.D. at 498.

While plaintiff must be afforded reasonable latitude in meeting the formal pleading requirements of the federal rules, he must, in fairness to this Court and the defendants, comply with those rules. Here, plaintiff's unfocused assertions manifestly fail to conform to the requirements of Rule 8.

It is respectfully submitted that the rules would be violated if said defendants were required to answer this complaint and to subject themselves to discovery when the plaintiff has failed to present any of his claims in an orderly and comprehensible fashion. This is especially so where it appears many of the defendants have been sued in their individual capacities. If these defendants have been sued in a Bivens action, heightened pleading standards are mandated. See Smith v. Nixon, 807 F2d 197, 200 (D.C. Circ-1986); Martin v. Malhoyt, 830 F2d 237, 253 (D.C. Circ-1987).

PLAINTIFF HAS FAILED TO STATE A CLAIM UPON WHICH RELIEF CAN BE GRANTED

Although it is certainly not clear as to why the said defendants are being sued, it is submitted the complaint fails to state a claim against the defendants individually. The Supreme Court has held that a cause of action exists against federal officials individually for violations of a person's constitutional rights while acting in an official capacity. Biven v. Six Unknown Named Agents, 403 U.S. 398 (1971). It is fundamental, however, that for a federal official to be properly sued individually for actions taken by him in an official capacity, the complaint must allege a specific constitutional deprivation of plaintiff's rights by defendant. Failure to allege a specific constitutional violation deprives the court of individual subject matter jurisdiction and fails to state a claim as to any individual liability of defendants for actions taken in their official capacity. In such a case the complaint must be dismissed. See Carlson v. Green, 446 U.S. 14, 18 (1980); Baker v. McCollan, 443 U.S. 137, 140 (1979); Davis v. Passman, 442 U.S. 228, 239 (1979).

The Supreme Court has, moreover, consistently held that as a threshold requirement a complaint alleging constitutional violations must contain specific allegations demonstrating the factual involvement of individual defendants. Baker v. McCollan, 443 U.S. at 140; Butz v. Economou, 438 U.S. 478, 507-08 (1978); Paul v. Davis, 424 U.S. 693, 696-97 (1976). Where a complaint fails to meet the specificity standard, the Supreme Court has admonished lower federal courts not to perpetuate lawsuits such as this one that cry out for dismissal. Specifically, the Court has said:

"Insubstantial lawsuits can be quickly terminated by federal courts alert to the possibilities of artful pleading. Unless the complaint states a compensable claim for relief under the Federal Constitution, it should not survive a motion to dismiss."

Butz v. Economou, 438 U.S. at 507-08.

A plaintiff seeking to sue federal officials individually must plead detailed factual allegations tying each defendant to the alleged wrongdoing. See, e.g., Martin v. D.C. Metropolitan Police Dept., 812 F.2d 1425, 1434-35 (D.C. Circ-1987), vacated in part & reh. en banc granted No. 85-06071 (D.C. Circ-May 8, 1987); Smith v. Nixon, 807 F.2d 197, 200 (D.C. Circ-1986); Ellsberg v. Mitchell, 807 F.2d 204 (D.C. Circ-1986).

Here plaintiff has neither identified any alleged constitutional violations by defendants nor pleaded any specific facts that tie each defendant to any wrongdoing. It is apparent, therefore, that plaintiff has failed to state a claim against defendants since he has failed to meet the "heightened pleading standard" applicable in Bivens cases. Smith v. Nixon, 807 F.2d at 200. Further, as the Supreme Court stated in Harlow v. Fitzgerald, 457 U.S. 800, 819-20, N. 35

"insubstantial lawsuits undermine the effectiveness of government as contemplated by our constitutional structure, and firm application of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure is fully warranted in such cases"--

Circuit courts have interpreted this to mean that a plaintiff's complaint must address with specificity how the defendant federal officials will not be able to rely on an immunity defense. See, e.g. Elliott v. Perez, 751 F2d 1472 (5th Circ-1985).

DEFENDANTS ARE ENTITLED TO IMMUNITY FROM SUIT INDIVIDUALLY

Although the complaint is incomprehensibly vague so as to determine if a claim is set for common law tort or constitutional tort liability it must be assumed the plaintiff is complaining about acts performed by said officials in their official duties or conduct. If this is the case, courts require the complaint to set forth all of the factual allegations needed to support the conclusion that the defendant violated clearly established law asserted as the basis of recovery. See Martin v. Malhoyt, (supra at 830 F.2d 254); Dominique v. Telb, 831 F.2d 673, 676 (6th Circ-1987).

The problem here is, however, the complaint is so vague it is impossible to tell if statutory or constitutional claims are being alleged. But assuming arguendo that the plaintiff has met the heightened pleading standard, dismissal would still be required.

The plaintiff has sued "everyone" from the executive, legislative and judicial branches of the federal government.

A.

The President and Mrs. Reagan are entitled to absolute immunity. This immunity does not depend on a particularized functional analysis and because the immunity is grounded in the constitution, it cannot be abrogated by statute. See Nixon v. Fitzgerald, 457 U.S. 731. This immunity encompasses all actions of the President taken in his official capacity. The plaintiff for some unfathomable reason also names Mrs. Reagan as a defendant. There is little question Mrs. Reagan, individually could not have in any way caused injury to the plaintiff. The fact that he names her as a defendant should give the Court an indication of the profound ludicrousness of the complaint.

B.

It appears the plaintiff also mentions the United States Attorney and other executive branch officers for failure to prosecute someone for something. Prosecutors enjoy a broad absolute immunity from personal liability for advocacy functions including whether to initiate prosecutions, (Imbler v. Pachtman, 424 U.S. 409); investigative functions (Imbler); administrative functions (Lavicky v. Burnett, 758 F.2d 468 (10th Circ-1985)).

C.

Legislators (members of Congress) are protected by absolute immunity. They are protected by an immunity that is expressly provided and limited by the constitution's speech and debate clause. ART I, 6. This immunity bars not only civil proceedings (Doe v. McMillan, 412 U.S. at 312), but also protects a member from criminal prosecution (U.S. v. Johnson, 383 U.S. 169, 180-85). Although activities not closely connected to the business of legislating do not enjoy the absolute immunity of the speech and debate shelter, they do enjoy qualified immunity. See: Walker v. Jones, 733 F.2d 923 (D.C. Circ-1984); Consumers Union of U.S. v. Periodical Correspondents Ass'n, 515 F.2d 1341, 1350-51 (D.C.-1975).

Judges and judicial administrative staff enjoy immunity both from common law and constitutional torts when performing judicial functions. Dennis v. Sparks, 449 U.S. 24, 31 (1980). This immunity extends not only to actions in cases before the Court but also to acts committed in an official capacity. Stump v. Sparkman, 435 U.S. 349, 356-57; Sharma v. Stevas, 790 F.2d 1486 (9th Circ-1986).

GOVERNMENT AGENCIES AND THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA ARE ALSO IMMUNE

It is axiomatic that pursuant to the doctrine of sovereign immunity, the United States or its agencies cannot be sued except as Congress may permit. See: United states v. Sherwood, 312 U.S. 584; Monaco v. Mississippi, 292 U.S. 313; United States v. Shaw, 309 U.S. 495. Thus, except in those instances where Congress has by enactment waived sovereign immunity, such as the Federal Torts Claims Act, the United States or its agencies cannot be sued. The complaint, as nearly as it can be deciphered, does not allege any cause of action of which Congress has waived immunity.

Conclusion

In the context of actions against federal officials, such as in this case, the Supreme Court has instructed lower federal Courts not to perpetuate lawsuits "otherwise crying out for dismissal":

"Insubstantial lawsuits can be quickly terminated by Federal Courts alert to the possibilities of artful pleading. Unless the complaint states a compensable claim for relief---it should not service a motion to dismiss."

Butz v. Economou, 439 U.S. 478, 507-508; Harlow v. Fitzgerald, 457 U.S. 808, 817-18 (1982). When a plaintiff has not set forth any information indicating a claim for relief, the case should be dismissed. This complaint, in most charitable terms, is strictly conclusory and unintelligible. For all the foregoing reasons, the Court should dismiss this suit with prejudice.

PROCEDURE FOR MARKING EXHIBITS

The following procedure will be used regarding the premarking of exhibits for trials and/or hearings, i.e. preliminary injunctions, temporary restraining orders or other evidentiary matters.

NO LATER THAN ONE (1) WEEK before the case is set for trial/hearing, counsel shall furnish to the Clerk's Office:

1. ORIGINAL AND TWO COPIES of a typed descriptive list of all exhibits to be offered. Forms for use in this listing should be obtained in the Clerk's Office. Please indicate those exhibits marked for "Identification" (ID).

2. THE ORIGINAL EXHIBITS, marked, that will be used in trial/hearing. Standard (yellow for Government and plaintiff, blue for defendant) exhibit stickers (such as Pengad) are used. DO NOT BRING large or bulky (machinery or tires) or sensitive exhibits. Those may be brought on the first day of trial.

It is, of course, assumed that by this point, copies of the exhibits will have been reviewed and exchanged by counsel. No court time will be spent while counsel review documents previously available to them.

The exhibit should be marked for ID only if agreement cannot be reached.

On the first day of trial, all exhibits agreed to will be accepted into evidence. Those marked for ID will be ruled on at that time or when offered into evidence with a specific witness. In jury-waived cases, the objection will be ruled on in the course of the written opinion.

THE CANDIDATE: John J. Staradumsky, whose name is on the March 10 Democratic presidential primary ballot.

Burrillville's John J. Staradumsky longest shot in presidential primary

By JONATHAN SALTZMAN
Journal-Bulletin Staff Writer

BURRILLVILLE — One thing came abundantly clear when John J. Staradumsky showed a visitor his photo-ID card from a 10-year stay in state prison four years ago: This is not your typical presidential candidate.

Staradumsky, the only Rhode Islander among 15 candidates whose names will appear on the ballot in the state's Democratic primary March 10, was jailed in February 1988 for failing to pay child support for his twins.

That was not his only brush with the law. In the past few years, the unemployed truckdriver has been convicted of refusing to take an alcohol breath test and of assaulting a man outside a Coventry rugstore. A charge of assaulting a woman in Burrillville last year is pending.

Staradumsky, 50, has also been fighting the West Warwick police in the courts since 1983, claiming that officers manhandled him while a fire destroyed his video business that year. Police maintained he was behaving belligerently.

Interviewed in his Mapleville trailer home yesterday, Staradumsky denied that his legal problems or brief prison stay undermined his candidacy.

"To me they're not skeletons," he said. "They're war wounds from fighting the political machine."

Staradumsky contended that his arrests, repeated vandalism of his cars and burglaries of his homes over the years bespeak a nebulous conspiracy by a "vicious political system" to discourage ordinary citizens from seeking public office.

In the last decade, Staradumsky has unsuccessfully tried to get on the ballot for U.S. senator, governor and attorney general — always thwarted, he said yesterday, by politicians.

But, to his pleased surprise, Staradumsky learned a week ago that state Democratic Chairman Mark Weiner had granted his request to be placed on the presidential primary ballot.

Weiner said he has never met Staradumsky and knows nothing about him. But he placed his name on the ballot with the likes of Arkansas Gov. Bill Clinton and former Massachusetts Sen. Paul Tsongas because, he said, "it's not up to me to decide who should be or should not be a candidate."

Staradumsky said he has no campaign organization or money. He has been unemployed since 1985, he said, spending five years on workers' compensation and the last two years on welfare.

'We could have had Saddam out of there, dead or alive. I think Bob Hope, Bing Crosby and Dorothy Lamour could have walked up the road to Baghdad to take him out.'

Still, he considers himself a bona fide candidate.

"I am the average American," he said. "And I'm qualified for the job. ... I'm intelligent. I have an independent thought. I can think."

Sitting in a living room that featured a large aquarium, ceramic panda bears and a framed velvet rendering of Jesus, Staradumsky offered his views on foreign and domestic affairs.

• On the Persian Gulf war: He faulted President Bush for allowing Saddam Hussein to remain in power after allied forces crushed Iraqi troops. "We could have had Saddam out of there, dead or alive. I think Bob Hope, Bing Crosby and Dorothy Lamour could have walked up the road to Baghdad to take him out."

• On U.S.-Japanese relations: He said President Bush should have demanded — not requested — trade concessions from Japan during the President's recent trip there. "Since World War II, we've rebuilt Japan ... and they've bit our hand off up to our elbow."

• On peace efforts in the Middle East: He said Israel should relinquish land on the West Bank to accommodate a Palestinian state. "I've always been a friend of Israel, but Israel has to give in on some issues."

• On education: The system must be completely overhauled because "children can reach college and still not be able to read or write."

• On welfare: "I believe in a workfare system. There's no incentive for people to get off welfare." He attributed his own unemployment to medical problems and said "I'm going to be looking for work."

Staradumsky said he expected to campaign throughout Rhode Island. If he does well in the primary he will try to get on the ballot in other states. He also said he would like to debate the other Democratic candidates.

"Give me an hour debate with them, and I think I can have the public on my side," he said.

In light of the information contained in serial #35 of the case file to the effect that AUSA [redacted] believes that captioned lawsuit has been dismissed against all federal defendants and requested a status check from the District Court Clerk regarding his belief. PLA believes that docket checks performed by SSRA [redacted] should be held in abeyance until such time as AUSA [redacted] determines from the court clerk whether his belief regarding dismissal is true. PLA [redacted] has sent AUSA [redacted] a letter requesting him to advise the FBI in Boston and Washington whether he received a response to his January 23, 1992 letter to the Clerk of the U.S. District Court in N.H. and the nature of that response. Upon receipt of AUSA's [redacted] reply to PLA [redacted] letter, it will be decided whether to resume docket checks or close this investigation because the case has been indeed dismissed as suspected.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE DISTRICT OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

John Staradumsky

v.

Civil No. 90-2000-D

West Warwick Police
Department, et al

O R D E R

A portion of the complaint of pro se plaintiff John Staradumsky accuses thirteen defendants, including police officers employed by the West Warwick, Rhode Island, Police Department, of harassment violative of his constitutional rights. The statutory foundation for these claims is set forth at 42 U.S.C. § 1983, which, in relevant part, reads as follows:

Every person who, under color of any statute, ordinance, regulation, custom, or usage, of any State or Territory or the District of Columbia, subjects, or causes to be subjected, any citizen of the United States or other person within the jurisdiction thereof to the deprivation of any rights, privileges, or immunities secured by the Constitution and laws, shall be liable to the party injured in an action at law, suit in equity, or other proper proceeding for redress.

Plaintiff has not alleged that Gloria Jean Hartmann, William "Chico" Hartmann, Ray Garrity Sheila Staradumsky, or the "resident John Does" were acting "under color of" state law when they engaged in the conduct of which plaintiff complains. This action cannot therefore be sustained against them, and, accordingly, these defendants must be and herewith are dismissed from this case.

The original complaint can, however, be fairly understood to state facially sufficient claims against (1) the Town of West Warwick, Rhode Island, (2) the West Warwick Police Department, (3) West Warwick Police Chief Danny Petrarca, (4) certain unnamed West Warwick police officers, and (5) William Field.

On January 23, 1990, plaintiff filed a fourteen-page amendment to the complaint. On June 26, the Court issued an Order allowing plaintiff twenty days to modify his complaint so as to conform to the pleading requirements specified in Rules 8 and 10 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Plaintiff has not responded to that Order.

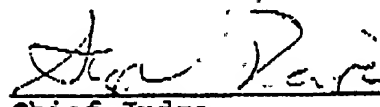

It is well established that "[c]omplaints based on civil rights statutes must do more than state simple conclusions; they must at least outline the facts constituting the alleged violation." Fisher v. Flynn, 598 F.2d 663, 665 (1st Cir. 1979). It is equally well settled that pro se civil rights complaints are held to less stringent standards than formal pleadings by lawyers. Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519, 520-21 (1972). Like "formal" complaints, pro se complaints can only be dismissed for failure to state a claim if it appears beyond doubt that plaintiff could prove no set of facts which would entitle him to relief. Estelle v. Gamble, 429 U.S. 97, 106 (1976). See also Pavilonis v. King, 626 F.2d 1075, 1078 (1st Cir. 1980) (if pro se complaints are "hopelessly general", dismissal is appropriate).

In the amended complaint, plaintiff has failed to outline facts sufficient to support the claims he asserts therein. Nonspecific complaints about "total deprivation", "conspiracy", and "intimidations" cannot state claims under the civil rights laws.

Accordingly, the amended complaint (document no. 15) must be and it is herewith dismissed. The action will proceed against the following five defendants named in the original complaint: (1) Town of West Warwick, Rhode Island, (2) West Warwick Police Police Department, (3) West Warwick's former chief of police Danny Petrarca, (4) certain unnamed West Warwick police officers, and (5) William Field. All other defendants are herewith dismissed.

SO ORDERED.

UNITED STATES COURT OF APPEALS FOR THE FIRST CIRCUIT

No. 91-1414

JOHN J. STARADUMSKY,
Plaintiff, Appellant,

v.

TOWN OF WEST WARWICK, RHODE ISLAND, ET AL.,
Defendants, Appellees.

ORDER OF COURT

Entered: June 19, 1991

On May 6, 1991 this court advised appellant that it may not have jurisdiction to consider the appeal because the February 1991 order from which plaintiff appeals is an order from which plaintiff appeals is an order issued by a magistrate. Appellant was further advised that the district court order of August 17, 1990 was not a final order and there was no September 19, 1990 order on the district court docket.

The appellant was ordered to either move for voluntary dismissal under Rule 42(b) FRAP or to show cause why this appeal should not be dismissed and that the failure to take either action by May 17, 1991 might lead to dismissal for failure to prosecute.

On May 21, 1991 this Court enlarged the time to file a response to May 28, 1991.

The appellant having failed to take any action, the above captioned appeal is dismissed for failure to prosecute.

[redacted] called on 8/20/92 from HP. She advised all federal defendants have been dismissed. This order dismisses a non-federal defendant but other non-federal defendants remain as defendants. HP advises that case cannot be closed until all defendants dismissed.

ORDER

This is a civil rights action brought pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 1983¹ in which plaintiff alleges a vast conspiracy among the defendants² to evict him in 1984 from his rented residence; to help the mother of his children win custody of those children in 1987; to harass him into lawsuits pending in Rhode Island state courts; to murder him by driving him insane; to hold him hostage in the state of Rhode Island; to harass him by failing to properly investigate complaints made by him in 1983 when his business was burned; by intimidating witnesses in his pending

¹Charges brought under various other civil rights statutes have previously been dismissed.

²The remaining defendants of the scores originally named in this action are: the Town of West Warwick, Rhode Island; that town's police department; former police chief Danny Petrarca and certain unnamed police officers; and plaintiff's former landlord William Field. For a detailed history of the tortuous account of this case, see the magistrate judge's order of February 19, 1991. Only those facts necessary to resolve the instant motions will be repeated here.

Rhode Island state court cases; by slandering him, spying on him and invading his privacy; and by improperly detaining him in July 1984.³ Presently before the court is defendant William Field's motion for summary judgment and plaintiff's motion for change of venue. For the reasons that follow, defendant's motion is granted, and plaintiff's motion is denied.

1. William Field's Motion for Summary Judgment

This defendant is sued in his capacity as plaintiff's landlord, with whom all the other defendants allegedly conspired to evict plaintiff from his rented apartment. As ground for the instant motion, Field argues that he was not a "state actor" within the meaning of 42 U.S.C. § 1983, and thus is not subject to suit under that statute.

In relevant part, 42 U.S.C. § 1983 states:

Every person who, under color of any statute, ordinance, regulation, custom, or usage, of any State . . . subjects, or causes to be subjected, any citizen of the United States . . . to the deprivation of any rights, privileges, or immunities secured by the Constitution and laws, shall be liable to the party injured in an action at law, suit in equity, or other proper proceeding for redress.

³This action was originally filed in the United States District Court for the District of Rhode Island, but was transferred to this court when plaintiff named all the sitting Rhode Island federal judges as defendants, thus necessitating their recusal.

It is settled law that a plaintiff in a section 1983 action must allege both a deprivation of rights secured by the laws or constitution of the United States, and that said deprivation was committed by a person acting "under color of state law." Gomez v. Toledo, 446 U.S. 625 (1980); McGillicuddy v. Clements, 746 F.2d 76 (1st Cir. 1984); MacDonald v. Manchester Fire Dept., 769 F. Supp. 40 (D.N.H. 1990).

When a private individual such as Field has been named as part of a civil rights conspiracy, the First Circuit has stated that "it is appropriate to require that the relationship or nature of cooperation between the state and a private individual be pled in some detail" in order to convert the actions of a private party to action "under color of state law." McGillicuddy, supra, 746 F.2d at 77 (citations omitted).

The role of summary judgment is to "'pierce the pleadings and assess the proof in order to see whether there is a genuine need for trial.'" Mesnick v. General Elec. Co., 950 F.2d 816, 822 (1st Cir. 1991), cert. denied, ___ U.S. ___, ___ S. Ct. ___, 60 U.S.L.W. 3841 (June 15, 1992) (quoting Garside v. Osco Drug, Inc., 895 F.2d 46, 50 (1st Cir. 1990)). The burden is on the moving party to show that there is no genuine issue of material fact and that it is entitled to judgment as a matter of law. Rule 56(c), Fed. R. Civ. P. The court must view the entire record in the light most favorable to the nonmovant, "'indulging all reasonable inferences in that party's favor.'" Id. (quoting Griggs-Ryan v. Smith, 904 F.2d 112, 115 (1st Cir. 1990)). However, once the moving party has made a properly supported motion for summary judgment, the adverse party "must set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue for trial." Anderson v. Liberty Lobby, Inc., 477 U.S. 242, 250 (1986) (citing Rule 56(e), Fed. R. Civ. P.).

In support of the instant motion, defendant Field, via affidavit, states that, following complaints from neighbors concerning noise, threats, and other aspects of plaintiff's behavior, he told plaintiff to quit the premises, which plaintiff did in September 1984, one month after the request. Field states that he did not use the judicial process to aid him, nor was he instructed by any other defendant, past or present, to evict plaintiff.

In response to the motion, plaintiff states "THAT THE EVICTION WAS THE ACT, BY FIELD, BY AND FOR THE OTHER DEFENDANTS, HE BECAME AN INSTRUMENT OF THE DEPRIVATION WILLING, WANTONLY AND MALICIOUSLY" Plaintiff's Memorandum of Law attached to Objection to Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment. Plaintiff also calls the affidavit "sheer fabrications" and demands that the "BURDEN [BE PLACED] ON THE DEFENDANTS TO OFFER 'PROOFS' IN A COURT OF LAW." Objection to Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment.

The court finds that plaintiff's unsupported epithets do not enable him to meet his burden in response to defendant's adequately supported motion. In the absence of any evidence to controvert defendant's testimony, the court finds that there is no genuine issue of material fact with respect to defendant William Fields' involvement herein. In short, he was not "acting under color of state law." Thus, defendant Field's motion for summary judgment (document no. 35) must be and herewith is granted.

2. Plaintiff's Motion for Re-Instatement of Pleadings
[regarding] Change of Venue/Transfer to Another District

It now appearing that plaintiff has complied with Rule 5; Fed. R. Civ. P., the "Motion for Re-Instatement of Pleadings" is herewith granted. That, however, has no effect on the utterly meritless nature of the venue-related motion.

Plaintiff moves pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1404, which provides in relevant part:

(a) For the convenience of the parties and witnesses, in the interest of justice, a district court may transfer any civil action to any other district or division where it might have been brought.

Plaintiff seeks transfer "ENTIRELY OUT OF NEW ENGLAND . . . TO THE U.S. DISTRICT COURTS OF EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA." Memorandum of Law in Support of Ex-Parte Motion for Change of Venue/Transfer at 1.

As grounds therefor, plaintiff alleges first, without details, that the orders of this court are "Incompetent, malpractic, and or Conspiring against him." Motion for Re-Instatement. He further alleges that the State of New Hampshire has been shown much favored treatments by the 'Reagan and Bush Republican administrations' and in particular, the Cabinet position of former Governor Sununu and now appointed Supreme Court Judge David H. Souter. Plaintiff charges that the Bush (A defendant) has tampered with the decisions of the Federal Court Judges of New Hampshire and the appointment of these individuals named has created a 'hostile situation and matters of prejudice' against the same plaintiff herein. That plaintiff charges that all decisions made by the judges of the districts of New Hampshire and Rhode Island, have been totally out of the context of any constitutional laws, and have been of a nature of discrimination and conspiracy against him and his civil and human rights. That he declares that the actions to dismiss and or deny his pleadings, have been and are of a nature to deprive him of his rights to a trial by jury and against all defendants herein both civil actions.

PLAINTIFF THEREFORE RESPECTFULLY DEMANDS, THAT THE JUDGES ET AL, AND THE NEW HAM[P]-SHIRE U.S. DISTRICT COURT, RECUSE ITSELF VOLUNTARILY TO AVOID FURTHER CONFLICT OF INTERESTS IN THESE ACTIONS. AND IF DENIED PLAINTIFF SHALL SEEK OTHER LEGAL MEANS TO REMOVE THESE ACTIONS FROM THE NEW HAMPSHIRE 'ARENA', TAINTED ALREADY IN HIS KNOWLEDGES OF THE CONSTITUTIONAL LAWS OF AMERICA, BY ITS PRIOR DECISIONS IN THESE MATTERS.

The verbal histrionics lack any factual support, and fall far short of satisfying section 1404.⁴ See generally, Cianbro Corp. v. Curran-Lavoie, Inc., 814 F.2d 7, 11 (1st Cir. 1987); 15 C. Wright & A. Miller, Federal Practice and Procedure § 3847 (1986). Plaintiff's motion for change of venue/transfer (document no. 41) must be and herewith is denied.

SO ORDERED.
